Performance goal and investment strategy

The performance objective of the fund is to exceed the yields on deposit bank products. It is a bond shares fund of very short-term investments. The fund is intended for investors who wish to achieve better appreciation than with term deposits and are aware that they can suffer only a small and short-term loss in the case of negative development of interest rates. The shares fund, however, does not have to be suitable for the investors who intend to get back their money invested in a period shorter than 6 up to 12 months. For more experienced investors, it may also play a role of an investment product for a temporary parking of money, without the knowledge of the time horizon of its further use. The fund portfolio mainly consists of bonds with a variable or fixed coupon which are mostly bought with the intention of their holding till maturity. The fund also invests in treasuries and bank deposits, or possibly in bonds with an input derivative. The fund also invests in securities in denominated foreign currencies, and the currency hedging is actively managed. The weighted average portfolio maturity is max. 18 months.
