Performance goal and investment strategy

The fund's performance objective is to outperform the yields of deposit bank products. This is a bond mutual fund of very short-term investments. The fund is suitable for investors, who want to achieve a better return than in term deposits with the knowledge that they can suffer even a minor loss in the negative development of interest rates. The fund's portfolio particularly consists of bonds with a variable or fixed coupon, which in most cases are bought with the intention to hold them until maturity. The fund also invests in treasury bills and bank deposits or in bonds with an embedded derivative. The fund also invests in securities denominated in foreign currencies while the currency risk is managed actively. The recommended investment horizon is 1 year and longer. To more experience investors the fund may play the role of an investment product for the temporary parking of money, without the knowledge of the time horizon of its further use.
