Description

PDCP VACCINATION AUTOCALL with the option of automatic early repayment provides the opportunity to gain an attractive annual yield of 8% (see Note). The total yield for its three-year duration can then reach up to 24%.

The payout of a yield and nominal value of PDCP VACCINATION AUTOCALL is derived from the price trend of the shares of three leading pharmaceutical companies, Pfizer, Moderna and Johnson & Johnson. General awareness of these companies has been raised in recent months as they were among the first in the world to place an effective COVID-19 vaccine on the market. This year it is expected that thanks to the successful vaccines, the revenues above all of Pfizer and Moderna will reach record levels. Analysts expect a gradual decrease in the revenues of these companies up to 2023 with increasing vaccine coverage rates and a decline in the pandemic.

Issuer: Goldman, Sachs & Co. Wertpapier GmbH

Payment notes

How does Prémiový dluhový cenný papír VACCINATION AUTOCALL work?

- The payout of the yield and nominal value of PDCP VACCINATION AUTOCALL depends on the trend the market rates of the shares of Pfizer Pfizer, Moderna and Johnson & Johnson.
- For the time of its duration PDCP VACCINATION AUTOCALL can be automatically repaid early annually provided that the value of each individual underlying share at the observation date will be equal or higher than the comparative value of an underlying share at a relevant observation date.
- If the automatic early repayment condition isn't met, PDCP VACCINATION AUTOCALL continues to the next possible repayment date.
- If PDCP VACCINATION AUTOCALL is automatically repaid early, the investor will receive its nominal value and a yield of 8% for each year that elapsed from the issue date.
- If there is no automatic early repayment and at the date of fixing the closing value of individual underlying shares the value of any of them doesn't fall below the barrier of 55% of its initial value, the nominal value of the Premium Bond and a total yield of 24% (equivalent of three annual yields in the amount of 8% (see Note)) shall be paid out at the maturity date.
- If there is no automatic early repayment and the price of at least one underlying share falls below the barrier of 55% of its initial value on the day of fixing the closing value of the individual underlying shares and the closing value of any of the remaining shares will not be equal or higher than 80% of its initial value, the payout of the nominal value of PDCP VACCINATION AUTOCALL on the maturity date will be decreased by the loss of the worst of the three shares from the date of fixing its initial value to the date of fixing its closing value. The investor will lose more than 45% of his investment and will not be paid out any yield.
